Dear Sirs/Madams;

It is very wrong to allow Microsoft to foist it's computers on our schools, effectively taking away the choice of which system will be used by our children. In our open market it is vital to have choices, and the school systems that prefer Macintosh or Linux will no longer have a choice.

Microsoft needs to cough up the cash and let the schools decide what they need, please don't let this get crammed down our throats.

Thank you,
Joshua Atkinson
